St. Lucie County Fire District Invaded by Teddy Bears

Bears will be distributed to young victims of fires or accidents

St. Lucie County, FL – The St. Lucie County Fire District was invaded by bears – the cute and cuddly kind. The Florida Sewing Sew-ciety (FSS) recently delivered 33 teddy bears to Fire Chief Ron Parrish.

“The bears will be distributed by firefighters to young victims of fires or accidents to help them through a difficult time,” explained Chief Parrish. “I want to thank those who took their time and talent to create the bears and donate them for such a good cause.”

FSS is a newly formed Florida group. The Port St. Lucie group has undertaken the charity project of sewing teddy bears.

FSS is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization dedicated to Florida residents and those vacationing here who believe that sewing in all its forms makes a difference in their lives and the lives of others. FSS inspires member to enhance their sewing, quilting, and other needle arts skills by connecting people of all ages and backgrounds, providing affordable membership and educational opportunities, and encouraging volunteer efforts in cooperation with local and statewide charities.
